

2019 Leadership Development Program

Greetings NAAWLI Supporter,

As a supporter and contributor of the National African-American Women's Leadership Institute, we are petitioning your assistance with our 2019 recruiting efforts. Starting December 14, 2018, we will begin accepting applications for our 2019 Leadership Development Program.

For 18 years, NAAWLI has been empowering African-American women with the tools to be successful in the corporate and non-profit arena. Additional information can be found on our website (www.naawli.org). We are expecting a tremendous response and would like to ensure that you have first choice in program participation.

This program delivers an innovative and experiential opportunity that develops executive leaders' capabilities for leadership, creating highly effective teams & organizations, business insight, financial acumen, process improvement, strategic thinking, and leading change that allows practical applications and collaboration among all Fellows in an environment that fosters their individual growth.

The NAAWLI Leadership Development Program is targeted towards African-American women who are:

- ❖ High potential or key talent within their company
- ❖ Individual Contributors, Managers or Directors with more than seven years of work experience
- ❖ Consistently driving positive impacts and results within their organization

Our Leadership Development Program is a 12-day program spanning over seven months, the individuals selected for the program will meet for four days in March, June and September. NAAWLI's 2019 Fellow Application is attached or can be downloaded at: www.naawli.org. Deadline for submission is Friday, January 18, 2019. As long-time supporters, we would like to reserve your seat(s) for next year prior to opening enrollment to the corporate community. Please reply to me as to the number of seats we should hold for you by December 21, 2018. We are also happy to invoice you this year should you wish to utilize 2018 funding.

As always, please feel free to contact Pamela Estes, Executive Director at pestes@naawli.org or 214.802.4579 for additional details or to address any questions/concerns. I also welcome the opportunity to speak with you regarding our 2019 program, and/or sponsorship opportunities.

Thank you in advance for forwarding to your network and assisting us in our 2019 Recruitment efforts, we value and appreciate your continued support!

Pamela K. Estes
